I declare that I used artificial intelligence tools, including ChatGPT and Claude, during the preparation of my Project Proposal. These tools assisted in creating the title page and table of contents, developing diagrams and schematics, improving the grammar, clarity, and academic style of the text, expanding academic literature search queries by suggesting relevant synonyms and alternative terms and clarifying concepts, questions related to the project, merging md files into one pdf, generating images, resolving discrepancies in information between various .md files and finding gray sources.

I reviewed the suggestions provided by these AI tools and take responsibility for the content, accuracy, and final version of my work.
